

Bio for Jamie Novak

The World's Most Relatable Organizer™

Jamie Novak is the World's Most Relatable Organizer™ who currently serves as the expert organizer for NBC's iVillage. You may have seen Jamie on QVC with a line of home solution products or on HGTV's Mission: Organization and she's represented such industry leaders as Brother P-Touch and Febreze for Proctor and Gamble. Her tips have been featured in countless national magazines including Everyday with Rachel Ray, Real Simple, All You, and Women's Day. She was selected as the first expert to be featured on The Nest's Expert 30 day Challenge.

Jamie is the author of the newly released Stop Throwing Money Away as well as three best-selling books The Get Organized Answer Book, 1,000 Best Quick and Easy Time Saving Strategies and 1,000 Best Quick and Easy Organizing Secrets. Most recently Jamie was named Chief Organizing Officer for Collectify Home Inventory and she spends most of her time traveling nationally presenting keynotes. When not on the road she is rotating her pantry, emptying her paper shredder and searching for the mango slicer that mysteriously disappeared from her utensil drawer.

Jamie approaches life and organizing in a humorous and heartwarming way and her down to earth style is both relatable and inspirational; although most days she gets it right she'll be the first to admit there are days when even she can't find a pen with ink in it or and she has yet to find a cure for her addiction to clipping recipes she never prepares.

Be sure to visit JamieNovak.com to see inside Jamie's closets and drawers or to join her next monthly book club by phone call where from the comfort of your couch in your slippers you can connect with Jamie as she shares tips, takes your questions and motivates you to stay on track.